TBILISI WALKING TOUR

TBILISI WALKING TOUR

Metekhi Plateau - The inscribed-cross church built in the 5th century by King Vakhtang Gorgasali. It is located on the cliff overlooking the Mtkvari River and Narikala Fortress.

Abanotubani (Georgian Bathes) - Sulfur Bathes, built in XVII century. Some of the pavilions are under the ground, and the red brick domes with the steam streaming from their top gives a special color to this area.

TBILISI WALKING TOUR

Visiting Orbeliani Square - one of the most popular places in Tbilisi nowadays. There is a small but very beautiful garden on the square, in the center of which there is a fountain. Orbeliani Square is especially famous for its flower market. Thousands of flora lovers visit the arched pavilions painted with thousands of flowers.

Walking through Leselidze street, visiting Shardeni Street (a small walking street in Tbilisi, that has always been one of the centers of cultural and social life in Tbilisi. There are still many art galleries, salons of vitreous enamel and other handmade items, as well as bars and restaurants) and Freedom Square

← Visiting Dry Bridge - a bridge built in 1849-51. It is famous for its antiques market and open-air art exhibition. Lovers of vintage items will find many interesting things here, like old samovars and tungsten, typewriters, tapes, books, original souvenirs and etc. This place is also called the "Memory Market".

Visiting Fabrika - once a soviet sewing factory, that has been revived and transformed into a multi-functional urban space bringing together enthusiastic individuals ready to stretch their minds with new exhilarating experiences. Lost and forgotten in the historical part of Tbilisi, the former soviet sewing factory "Nino" is now the urban hotspot, for locals and travelers alike.
